

Quality of Life Foundation

September 18, 2013

Dear Sir/Ma'am:

I am writing this letter to recognize Azalea Charities as an outstanding non-profit organization that supports a dual mission; Aid for Wounded Warriors and Northern Virginia youth and special needs projects. The Quality of Life Foundation has teamed with Azalea Charities since May 2010 to meet the needs of families who provide daily, substantial caregiving to a veteran at home: Azalea Charities was one of our first teaming organizations and has provided approximately $130,000 in funding support for these families. Azalea Charities funding has been used to meet a variety of needs to include: home modifications, caregiver respite, tutoring for minor children, lawn care, extracurricular activities for minor children, housecleaning, mental health counseling, emergency financial assistance for food, shelter and transportation needs, and many others.

Azalea Charities is a 100% volunteer-led organization that gets things done in a highly effective and professional manner. We give them our highest recommendation and are certain that they will use grant funding to make a very meaningful impact on the lives their organization touches.

Most respectfully,

Kimberly Munoz
Executive Director
